

I understand The Commission is taking comments under this listing about internet service over existing power lines.

I am totally opposed to this.

I am an amateur radio operator, and I have a lot of concerns that this process of sending the internet system out over power lines will cause a lot of interference to Ham Radio, and at the same time my signal will likely cause interference to the systems as well.

It looks pretty much to me like a loose loose situation.

Please do not allow this to happen.

Thanks for your time.

Tom Hix

amateur radio station w4th